

Contents

List of Figure and Tables	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Preface	xiii
Amparo Gómez, Antonio Fco. Canales and Brian Balmer
1	Science Policy under Democracy and Dictatorship: An Introductory Essay	1
	Amparo Gómez, Brian Balmer and Antonio Fco. Canales
2	The 'Social Contract' for Spanish Science before the Civil War	27
	Amparo Gómez
3	Spanish Science: from the Convergence with Europe to Purge and Exile	59
	Francisco A. González Redondo
4	The Reactionary Utopia: the CSIC and Spanish Imperial Science	79
	Antonio Fco. Canales
5	Broken Science, Scientists under Suspicion. Neuroscience in Spain during the Early Years of the Franco Dictatorship	103
	Rafael Huertas
6	Cultures of Research and the International Relations of Physics Through Francoism: Spain at CERN	121
	Xavier Roqué
7	The National Council for Research in the Context of Fascist Autarky	141
	Roberto Maiocchi

8	Statistical Theory, Scientific Rivalry and War Politics in Fascist Italy (1939–1943) Jean-Guy Prévost	159
9	Science, Military Dictatorships and Constitutional Governments in Argentina Pablo Miguel Jacovkis	179
10	Science Policy in Argentina During the ‘Dirty War’ Diana Maffia	199
	Appendix: History of Science in Spain, Italy and Argentina	211
	Index	215